WAY FOR SENATE LOBBY COMMITTEE ACTION IS CLEARED

MIGHTY UTILITIES MAGNATE SAYS WILLING TO BE QUESTIONED LATER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—The way for senate lobby committee examination of Howard C. Hopson elusive utility operator, was cleared somewhat today with readiness in the house to drop the dispute over who should have custody over him.

Through counsel, Hopson announced willingness to testify on the senate side about his Associated Gas and Electric moves against the bill to regulate holding companies, once his appearance before the house committee was concluded.

Where he was remained a mystery.

The house rules committee resolved that he should be arrested at once, but directed that he be available to the senate when not being questioned on the house side. This evidently ended differences between the two branches. Chairman O'Connor indicated, however, that he might not call up the rules committee resolution in the house. He had proposed the resolution, and his attitude left the question in the air to an extent.

Representative Rankin (D-Miss) insisted the resolution even yet attempted "to keep Hopson from having to appear before the senate."

O'Connor disputed this contending the question was whether house and senate are coordinate branches of government. "Immediate action was deferred, but the arrest proposal could be called up at any time. Chesley W. Jurney, sergeant-at-arms, had just reported to the senate that O'Connor refused last night to permit serving of a senate contempt writ on Hopson."

Chairman Texas Planning Board Sees Unfairness

AUSTIN, Aug. 15.—(P)—The Texas planning board today ordered its Washington representative to inquire into reasons for a delay in approving Texas works projects and a preferential wage scale in New Mexico over Texas.

"I do not understand why our Texas projects were not approved by the President's advisory board of the Works Progress Administration," W. M. Massie, chairman of the board, said. "Our Texas unemployed should not be kept from work any longer than is absolutely necessary."

Massie said New Mexico was placed in region one with several eastern industrial states, giving it a maximum wage of $40 monthly compared to $19 in Texas for unskilled labor.

FALL OF "TEAPOT DOME" WILL FIGHT TO RETAIN RANCH

FORECLOSURE SALE 750,000 ACRE RANCH FORMER CABINET MEMBER PLANNED

THREE RIVERS, N. M., Aug. 15.—(P)—Albert B. Fall, white haired former cabinet member, fought from his bed here today what he termed an order evicting him from his 750,000-acre ranch here.

"I don't intend to leave here. I am going to fight eviction and I am confident I can retain my home," said Fall, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers.

How the battle would be waged was not disclosed. The Fall family occupied the place as "tenant at will" since it was taken through foreclosure by the E. L. Doherty oil interests.

Fall returned to the ranch from New Mexico state penitentiary in 1932 after serving a term for accepting a bribe in the notorious "Teapot Dome" oil scandal of a decade ago.

Doherty, accused of giving the bribe, was acquitted.

"That the aged Fall still retains his fire of spirit, though his body is feeble, was evident as he discussed the sale of the ranch,"

MAN SHOT TO DEATH BY NIGHTWATCHMAN STILL UNIDENTIFIED

WILL MELTON, SHOT EARLY WEDNESDAY, IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION THURSDAY

An unidentified man is still being held at a morgue in Frost and Will Melton, 34, a veteran nightwatchman at Frost, is in a critical condition in a local hospital as a result of a mortal gun battle staged near the Citizens State Bank at Frost shortly after midnight Wednesday morning when the nightwatchman was accosted by an armed man and told to "put up his hands."

The gun-battle ensued with the slain man emptying his gun and after being wounded several times Melton, a son of an early day Texas Ranger, gathered his assailant, one bullet striking the man in the chest, killing him instantly.

It was reported Thursday afternoon that Melton's condition was not improved.

Sheriff Rufus Pevslove and Jack Mergenthaler, fingerprint expert of the Corsicana police department, are working on the case.

PREDICTIONS CLASH OVER HOW PARTIES TO FARE 1936 ELECTION

WILD CLAIMS OF PARTY LEADERS BEING AIRED IN NATION'S CAPITAL

By ROGER HAWTHORNE Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—Clashing predictions as to how the parties will fare in the next elections served today to keep the capital conscious of approaching campaigns.

A forecast yesterday by Representative Bolton of Ohio, as chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee, that the G. O. P. would pick up "at least 75 or 100 house seats" in 1936 elicited chuckles from democratic leaders.

Told of Bolton's prediction, Speaker Byrnes grinned. "That's a damn fool statement," he ejaculated.

"Seriously though," he said, "there is no question but what the democrats will maintain every bit of their majority."

"The country not only will re-elect President Roosevelt, but will show its approval of the aims and policies of the administration by re-electing every democratic congressman."

Representative Drewry of Virginia, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, termed Bolton's figures "preposterous."

Meanwhile Senator Long (D-La.) was saying a special congressional election in Ohio now would result in defeat and "re-

GROVER BERGDOLL, DRAFT EVADER, IN NEW PLEA CLEMENCY

WILLING TO SURRENDER IF COURT MARTIAL MENACE IS ELIMINATED

WEINBERG, Germany, Aug. 15.—(P)—Grover Bergdoll, millionaire American draft dodger, made a new offer of surrender today to the United States government.

His stipulations are that "first the case be taken out of the hands of the military authorities and, secondly, my family be permitted to reside permanently in the United States."

Anxiety over the neglected American education of his German born children prompted the offer, Bergdoll said.

Bergdoll wrote the following statement:

"Some time ago, my wife (now in America) received a very sympathetic letter from the White House which stated she should first carry her pardon pleas to the war department and the department of justice and then if both refuse her pleas, she should make her final plea to the President as he is the last resort in such matters."

EXTENSIVE TUNNEL HUNTSVILLE PRISON DISCOVERED IN TIME

PRISON OFFICIALS EXPECT SOLVE ATTEMPT BUT WILL TAKE TIME

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 15.—(P)—State prison officials today were temporarily stumped in efforts to learn the identity of prisoners who participated in the digging of a huge tunnel leading outside the walls, which was discovered yesterday.

The well-planned escape plot, apparently attended by months of hard labor and admittedly near fruition, was blocked with the finding of the 30-yard long tunnel.

Warden W. W. Wald said an extensive investigation was being made.

"We have nothing definite on any of them," he said, "but there are plenty of suspects mixed in on it, but it's hard to get anything on them. I don't know whether we will find out who was in on it or not."

The tunnel led to within two feet of the stone wall surrounding the bastille.

Officials said "we certainly would have had a real break if this tunnel had not been found when it was. Another week and we'd have had between 40 and 50 hard boys to get."

As he pushed his investigation into the case, Warden Wald said he suspected about 12 desperate criminals of conceiving what prison system manager, Lee Simmons, said was "a deep laid plot."

Wald said the tunnel would have provided an avenue leading to freedom for many of the approximately 1,000 convicts.

The passage, extending ten feet underground, was concealed at its entrance by four stacks of cord wood. Entry was effected by the

LONG ANNOUNCES AS CANDIDATE UNLESS LIBERAL NOMINATED

LOUISIANA KINGFISH CALLS ROOSEVELT, HOOVER TWIN BED MATES OF DISASTER

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(P)—Senator Huey Long announced today he would be an independent candidate for the presidency in 1936 "if the republicans go Hoover, the democrats go Roosevelt and there is no other liberal candidate."

The Louisiana political boss called "twin bed mates of disaster" Hoover and President Roosevelt. "If some liberal candidate would be chosen by either party," the senator said, "I would support him. But it begins to look like the G. O. P. is being dominated by Mr. Hoover or someone of his calling."

"The liberal and progressive element is called upon to decide that we don't want a Hoover, that we know what is, or a Roosevelt that we don't know what is."

Waving his forefinger vigorously, and turning his forefinger on full blast, Senator Long added: "We need a liberal candidate to give equal distribution to everybody in this land of plenty."

The senator—who has been campaigning for months on the "we're all in it together" mentioned four senate colleagues whom he classified as liberals, he would like to see nominated in '36 for the presidency.

TWO CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES WOULD MODERNIZE STATE PLAN HANDLING TWO TYPES WARDS

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of four articles explaining the seven constitutional amendments submitted to a vote at a special election August 24.)

AUSTIN, Aug. 15.—(P)—Constitutional changes to modernize the state's method, in part, of handling two types of wards, the mentally ill and criminals, were proposed in two amendments submitted at a special election August 24.

The one dealing with commitment of mentally impaired persons to state institutions would be an exception to a court construction of the constitutional injunction that "the right of a trial by jury shall remain inviolate." It would not affect the right of a person to a jury trial on criminal charges.

The exception would authorize the legislature to "provide for the temporary commitment, for observation and, or treatment of mentally ill persons not charged with a criminal offense, for a period of time not to exceed 90

TWELVE-CENT LOAN APPEARED POSSIBLE 1935 COTTON CROP

STRONG OPPOSITION SUCH PLAN REPORTED FROM AAA OFFICIALS NOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—A 12-cent loan on the 1935 cotton crop appeared possible today, despite reported strong opposition from the farm administration.

Confronted with a statement by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) yesterday that a 12-cent loan would be announced by the end of this week, Secretary Wallace said an announcement would be made "in due time."

Some AAA officials admittedly were worried about the cotton loan situation, and some were known to oppose definitely any loan announcement at this time.

When the agriculture department last week predicted a total cotton crop this year of 11,798,000 bales, Secretary Wallace announced that "adequate credit facilities" would be made available for orderly marketing of the crop.

This statement was interpreted in some quarters to mean that no loan would be announced until late in the year, and that a free movement of the present crop to market would be permitted.

Some private estimates and the market dropped sharply. Wallace told newsmen yesterday that the loan rate would be announced before December, clarifying his earlier statement. But it was reported that urgent political pressure has been brought to bear to force a heavy loan.

In announcing the "adequate credit facilities," Wallace said that the federal oil board would on which 12-cent loans now are

SENATE REJECTED LAFOLLETTE'S PLAN TAX LOWER INCOMES

DECISIVE DEFEAT FOR THE AMENDMENT RAISE ABOUT $175,000,000 IN TAXES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—The senate today rejected the LaFollette amendment to the administration tax bill.

The amendment sought to increase surtaxes on small and large individual incomes to raise about $175,000,000 in new revenue. The vote was 62 to 19.

The proposal would have provided a surtax on net income ranging from 4 per cent on the first $1,000 of income over $3,000 to 75 per cent on that portion over $5,000,000.

(The pending bill raises surtaxes on income over $1,000 with a range of rates from 60 to 75 per cent, the maximum applying to that over $10,000,000. The present law runs from 4 per cent on the first $2,000 over $4,000 to 50 per cent on all over $1,000,000. The house bill raises surtax rates on incomes over $5,000 with the taxes ranging 31 to 75 per cent.)

The roll call on the LaFollette 4-75 per cent surtax schedule follows:

For the amendment—Republicans (9)—Austin, Frazier, Gibson, Hale, Norbeck, Nye, Stiever, Vandenberg.

Democrats (8)—Black, Bulkeley, Clark, Costigan, Gerry, Maloney, Russell, Thomas, Okla.

Progressives (1)—LaFollette.

MOTION RECONSIDER CONNALLY OIL BILL HOLDS IN SENATE

MEASURE PASSED BY UPPER HOUSE ON WEDNESDAY AND MAKES COMPACTS BINDING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—The Connally oil regulation bill has been passed by the senate but it still lingered in that chamber today instead of going on to the house.

The delay was occasioned by a motion by Senator George (D-Ga.) to reconsider the vote by which the senate approved the bill yesterday.

Senator Connally's bill provides for congressional recognition of the interstate oil conservation compact drawn up at Dallas and already ratified by six oil-producing states; for presidential "pegging" of oil imports near the 1932 level; and for continuing the present ban against interstate shipment of "hot oil."

The bill was substituted for a broader one by Senator Thomas (D-Okla.), the Thomas bill, similar to a measure approved by the house interstate commerce committee yesterday, included a further provision for a permanent federal oil board and would have authorized voluntary industrial agreements subject to presidential approval where they waived criminal provisions of the anti-trust laws.

Two objections were voiced at the senate's action yesterday. George said import regulation was too important a question to be disposed of speedily and Senator McAdoo (D-Calif.) said he expected protests from California against allowing import figures to approach the 1932 level.

STATE RESTED IN TRIAL DALLAS WOMAN ON MURDER CHARGE

MRS. ETHEL JOHNSON BEING TRIED ON CHARGE KILLING DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

GATESVILLE, Aug. 15.—(P)—The state rested today in the murder trial of Mrs. Ethel Johnson of Dallas after the examination of its twenty-ninth witness.

George Lacy, a Houston criminologist, was the last state witness. He testified that ordinarily when a person shoots himself in the brain he drops the gun free. Mrs. Bernice Davenport Blankenship, Mrs. Johnson's 19-year-old daughter-in-law with whose slaying she is charged, was found with her hand lightly cupped over a .38 calibre pistol, other witnesses testified.

Mrs. Lois Anderson of Antelope, wife of a foster grandson of George Meddick, the defendant's father, testified she was at the Meddick ranch in Coryell county the day Mrs. Blankenship and her husband Joe Dean Blankenship were killed. She said she went to the store with Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Meddick and Joe Dean Blankenship.

She related that Mrs. Johnson and Blankenship left them, and returned to the house. She said that it was five or ten minutes later that Mrs. Johnson was heard coming from the house

SNOWDEN SEES MAKINGS WORLD WAR IN PRESENT SITUATION IN FAR-OFF EAST AFRICAN NATION

Viscount Snowden of Eboracshire, former British chancellor of the exchequer and labor leader, broke a lifetime rule against commenting publicly when he wrote the following article for the Associated Press on the eve of the Tripartite Conference in Paris for the solution of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict. (Viscount Snowden was branded a dangerous pacifist when he invaded neutral Spain in 1934.)

By VISCOUNT SNOWDEN (Copyright 1935, by Associated Press.) TILFORD, Surrey, England, Aug. 15.—The Italo-Ethiopian dispute has in it all the elements of a world war.

International affairs are now so interrelated an apparently trivial incident may have immense unexpected consequences.

The murder of an Austrian archduke was the match which set in to a huge conflagration combustible material which for years had been accumulating.

The elements constituting the present menace to world peace are a result of the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia. It may be summarized as follows:

1. The covenant of the League of Nations and the Paris pact make an isolated dispute the business of all signatories to these documents.

Unprovoked Attack. 2. Unprovoked attack by one of the nations upon another member of the league compels the league to come to the assistance of the jeopardized nation. Under the Paris pact such an attack becomes a violation of international law and morality.

3. If Italy persists in her declared intention to attack and conquer Ethiopia, then her action is clearly in violation of both the covenant of the league and the

DELTA AIRLINES TRI-MOTORED PLANE CRASHES AT GILMER

FOUR OCCUPANTS BURNED DEATH AS BIG MONOPLANE BURSTS INTO FLAMES

GILMER, Aug. 15.—(P)—Two Delta airplane pilots and two passengers crashed to flaming deaths in a cotton field 12 miles west of here early today after the left motor of the big tri-motored plane tore loose and fell.

Early investigation revealed the plane had only two motors when it crashed. The missing motor had not been found at mid-morning.

Trapped and subsequently burned to beyond recognition were: Andy Dixon, of Monroe, La., pilot.

Herbert Bulkeley, Jr., Dallas, co-pilot.

J. W. Thompson of Atlanta, Ga., passenger.

P. A. Ivy, of Birmingham, Ala., passenger.

Minutes before the plane, bound from Dallas to Atlanta, buried its nose into the soft earth of a cotton field and burned. The pilots released flares in an effort to find an emergency landing spot.

Guy Weldon and Herbert McWhorter, farmers on the McWhorter farm, witnessed the crash. Weldon told a graphic story of the tragedy. He told of hearing the roar of the plane's motor and seeing flares float earthward.

"A short time later the plane crashed," said Weldon. "There was an explosion. I ran to the scene and the plane was enveloped in flames. There was a series of explosions like the popping of a firecracker."

"The heat prevented me from getting any closer than about 15 yards. I circled the plane to see if anyone had been thrown out."

Heavy Decline In Raw Cotton Exports Shown

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—A decline of 36 per cent in quantity and 23 per cent in value of United States exports of raw cotton during the 1934-35 cotton season as compared with 1933-34 was reported today by the commerce department.

Total shipments for the 1934-35 season, August to July inclusive, aggregated 4,759,000 bales valued at $325,451,000 compared with 7,534,000 bales valued at $421,066,000 for 1933-34.

The department gave no explanation for the decreases, except to say:

"The decline is to be accounted for mainly by smaller shipments to Germany (976,000 bales less), United Kingdom (640,000 bales less), France (336,000 bales less), Japan (325,000 bales less), China (267,000 bales less) and Italy 175,000 bales less).

Streicher entered the capital like a crusader, exciting real concern among Jews over what he might engender, official goads against them and Catholics continued in various parts of the reich.

Streicher, publisher of Der Sturmer, was announced at the speaker for a crowd of 20,000 persons tonight in the Sportsplatz. Tickets were exhausted days ago. A second address was arranged for an overflow crowd of equal size. Both demonstrations were prepared in an area of which Jews form 21 per cent of the population.

Hundreds of county people filed through the exhibition tent Wednesday and Thursday at the first annual Navarro county fair, sponsored by the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22 American Legion, Drum and Bugle Corps, August 15-17, on the old Municipal ball park on South Ninth street. The scheduled appearance of the Light Circus Daubovs for Wednesday was postponed, and the next feature of this kind will be Friday when the Chuck Wagon Gang will entertain.

Friday will also be "Old Settlers' Day," and an old fiddlers contest will be held at 4 o'clock. Prizes will be given the oldest married couple, the oldest man and the oldest woman present. Saturday will be veterans' day. A large number of entries were received in various ramifications of the judging contests, and considerable interest was shown by the visitors in examining the exhibits of farm produce, sewing exhibits and the canned goods of various kinds.

The exhibits were put in prior to 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, and judging began immediately thereafter. The prize winners were announced in Wednesday's Daily Sun, and prize money was presented the winners upon application after 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Entertainment Thursday night (tonight) will be provided by local talent including singing and dancing and a fiddle band. Entrants in the old fiddlers contest Friday must be registered by 10 o'clock Friday morning, and they must play three pieces, including two breakdowns and one waltz. Popular numbers will not be counted as contest numbers.

The entrants in the old fiddlers contest Thursday morning included the "Musical Mountaineers," four pieces, William Dawson's three musicians, of Barry, route 1, and F. P. Layfield, Powell, route 1, three pieces.

Trim Tweed Coats, Gay Colored Frocks Lend Dash to College Girls' Wardrobes

This coat comes straight from the Paris winter fashion shows and is designed for the college girl. Creed makes it of blue and brown tweed collared in beaver. The hat is a blue grey felt finished with a brown quill and band, the frock brown wool.

By ADELAIDE KERR
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS (AP)—Youth and verve distinguish the new Paris models for the collegiate girl's wardrobe shown in 1936 winter fashion shows. Some of the wool frocks which Marcel Rochas makes for campus wear are the simplest, plainest designs shown in years, but their scarfs, belts and color combinations lend great dash and chic. Their waists are slender, bodices close-fitting and skirts not tight but slim.

New Novelty Fasteners. Such novelties as silver keys and crowns or gold acorns fasten them, a leather belt and a bright scarf tucked into the high neckline finish them. Black-green with a fuchsia scarf and dark blue-green with pig-skin yellow are some of the interesting color combinations.

The frock the college girl wears to tea may be one of the new soft velvets or faconne crepes shimmering with satiny figures, accented perhaps at the neckline, and waist by a gold rose or a rhinestone morning glory as were those in Chanel's latest winter showing. These will be softer in design with larger sleeves and slightly fuller skirts. At least one black one will be included in the college wardrobe, while brown or bottle green may be chosen to accompany coats of those colors.

The coat question itself seems to be as diversified as the college girl's curriculum. For campus wear there are trim tweeds in falling leaf and wool tones belted and furled in some felt like beaver, or one of Creed's new military designs modeled after an army officer's coat with a fitted waistline and bold revers. There are three-quarter length sportscoats and a number of new fur models—seal, beaver, nutria, etc.—in the same abbreviated cut. Afternoon teas will be attended by full length slender black, brown or dark green models trimmed with fox or astrakhan.

The college girl's suit is apt to be made of two-toned tweed with a slim skirt and one of the new box jackets which may be just a little bulkier through the shoulders this year.

She may "wear" a muff with it if she wishes, made of some flat fur and slung around her neck by a cord. Her blouse will be of knitted or plaid woven wool in the morning and velvet in the afternoon.

Her hats may include a sports felt for campus wear and one of the new little velvet bonnets perched well back on the head for afternoon teas.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Aiming at a bigger and better army and navy, the present government will spend on the two services a sum equivalent to about $6.35 for each man, woman and child in the country. Revised figures, including military appropriations for national defense, by the present congress to $806,446,823. This $458,684,379 goes to the navy, and $347,762,450 to the army.

The navy's 1936 appropriations are an increase of $174,000,000 over 1935, while the army is getting $97,000,000 more than last year.

Analysis of the appropriations show that for the increased expenditures of approximately $271,000,000 the army and navy will get more than 100 airplanes, more warships, and some new equipment.

Officials said, however, that a considerable part of the increased cost of maintaining army and navy has been made necessary by higher costs of living and equipment, and restoration of pay cuts.

Nearly $121,000,000 has been allotted for continuing construction of 62 vessels now being built, and laying keels of 24 more warships. About $23,000,000 has been earmarked for beginning work on 15 destroyers, 5 submarines, 2 light cruisers, and one aircraft carrier.

To buy new planes the navy got $28,700,000—an increase of $20,500,000 over last year.

The army's $97,000,000 increase will be absorbed by these expenditures, among others: $20,000,000 to increase its size to 118,750 men to 165,000.

$20,000,000 to restore economy pay cuts.

$18,000,000 more for plan purchases (however, officers said that because of increased cost of materials and labor, this sum will give the air corps only about the same number of planes.)

$7,000,000 for mechanization and modernization of old equipment.

CALLS SOCIAL SECURITY BILL
CORNERSTONE IN STRUCTURE NOT COMPLETE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, embarking the government on the new deal's vast social security program, foresees further social and economic adjustments to come.

When he signed the security bill into law yesterday amid formal ceremony, he said it was a "cornerstone in a structure which is being built but is by no means complete."

(The bill, which the President said would apply to 30,000,000 persons, provides for contributory old age pensions, federal-state pensions for the aged needy, a federal-state unemployment insurance system, special care for dependent children and mothers. It contains a huge tax program to raise the funds.)

Legislators and high officials surrounded the President in the cabinet room as he affixed his signature. He spoke into sound cameras recording the event. A secretary told newsmen that the President used "about 30 pens" to sign the bill, so that numerous requests for souvenirs could be satisfied.

There was no definite indication today as to when the President will appoint the board of three members which will administer certain phases of the program. Among those invited to yesterday's ceremony were Secretary Perkins, Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee, Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.), Chairman Doughton (D-NC), of the house ways and means committee and Rep. Lewis (D-Md.). The President's talk was brief.

The measure, he said, "gives at least some protection to 30,000,000 of our citizens who will reap direct benefits."

PAT NEFF SPEAKS AGAINST REPEAL OF STATE LIQUOR LAWS

FORMER GOVERNOR AND PRESIDENT BAYLOR HEARD BY BIG CROWD LAST NIGHT

People of Texas are obligated to go to the polls on August 24 and vote for the repeal of the constitutional prohibition amendment if whiskey has contributed to the protection and improvement of the homes, schools and churches of the state, former Gov. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University at Waco, told a large audience at the county-wide anti-repeal rally held on the lawn of the First Baptist church Tuesday night.

C. G. Davidson, county chairman of the dry forces, presided at the meeting and O. E. Stone led the crowd in the singing of "America" before the invocation by Rev. C. R. Gray, presiding elder of the Corsicana district of the Methodist Episcopal church South.

The chairman asserted that the dry forces in the county had the best set-up in their history, and expressed great confidence that they would sweep the county with a majority of 500 to 600 votes. He reported that "minute-men" had been secured in every voting place and supplied with pistols and would make every effort to secure a large turnout of the dry forces on election day.

He denied the claims of opposition forces that no interest was being taken in the campaign, and asserted that people of all walks of life and from all parts of the county visited his office daily.

Too Conservative. Boyce Martin was introduced and stated that he thought the chairman was too conservative in the victory estimate, because he could see nothing that the opposition could say about the matter, and had heard nothing of their activities. A free day campaign expense.

A city-wide rally on the part of all Corsicana churches was announced for the First Methodist church lawn Sunday night at 8 o'clock with the theme of the visiting speaker to be announced later.

Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor of the First Methodist church, was presented and introduced the speaker of the evening with glowing tribute to his extended service to Texas in political, religious and civic fields.

Portrays March of Progress. The former governor bore his address with a portrayal of the march of progress through the years, asserting that Texas residents of a hundred years ago had their own problems and responsibilities including the establishment of a government and the separation of church and state. He declared that they had based their civilization around three main factors—the home, school, and the church. He recounted the creation of the Texas homestead law, the attention paid to education in the declaration of independence, and the setting aside of millions of acres of land for the support of the schools.

Mr. Neff recounted that fifteen years ago a constitutional amendment was adopted prohibiting the use, sale, drinking or making of whiskey; and declared that now when the world was upside down and wrong side out, evil forces were taking advantage of the chaos to attempt to remove the statute.

He declared that there was just one issue in the campaign and that was whether or not whiskey was good for the home, the school and the church; and asserted that if whiskey ever did any good for these three institutions, the people of Texas were under obligation to vote for repeal of the law. He declared there was no place for "fence-riders" in the drive.

Attempt to Deceive. An attempt to deceive the public in the form of ballot was charged by the speaker with "malice aforethought." He declared a reason for labeling the proposed amendment "for repeal and against the saloon." He declared that anything that pertained to whiskey that was ever passed by any session of the Texas legislature bore the brand of the liquor traffic as did the repeal ballot.

The speaker said the deception was attempted because the saloon is unpopular today and the fact was well known that it was the most deadly of all agencies. He defined a saloon as any place selling whiskey and declared that any place selling whiskey was a degradation to all mankind. He

Important Notice! To All Election Officials

Immediately upon the completion of the count of your box please phone (Collect) results to the Corsicana Daily Sun.

The Sun will attempt to give complete county totals the night of the election. This will be impossible without your box.

Just tell the operator to connect you with the Daily Sun, Corsicana, (Collect).

You should bear in mind that there is a law in effect requiring that your returns be phoned in immediately after the polls are closed and the count completed and imposes a stiff penalty on the election judge if he shall neglect to do this. The law further provides that the official returns shall be made to the County Judge and County Clerk within twenty-four hours after the ballots are counted. A fine of not less than $50.00 nor more than $1,000.00 is the penalty fixed by law for any violation of the election law.

This is very important and your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

We will make our headquarters at the Sun office the night of the election.

Miss Ruby Johnston Of Richland Given Birthday Surprise

Miss Ruby Johnston of Richland was the honoree of a surprise dinner, Sunday, August 11, given by her mother, Mrs. L. L. Oliver and sister Mrs. Henry Andrew at the home of her mother in honor of her nineteenth birthday.

The honoree had been a visitor in Palestine the past week at the home of another sister, Mrs. W. D. Durham and returned home Sunday to be met at the door by seventeen of her friends singing "Happy Birthday to You."

After the honoree recovered from this delightful shock the group posed for some pictures to be taken and was then called to dinner which had been spread in picnic style in the shade of "the oaks."

The honoree found a box of nice presents in her chair which was another great surprise. The candles on the cake were lighted by two of the guests and blown out by the honoree.

The dinner consisted of fried chicken, cream gravy, vegetable salad, English peas, candied yams with marshmallows, creamed potatoes, fruit salad, beet and cucumber pickles, macaroni and cheese, lettuce, snap beans, iced tea, cake and ice cream.

Those present for the occasion were: Misses Joy and Zane Edgar, Ione and Clyta Harris, Jimmie Gregory, Sara Marie Winstead, Evelyn Jones and Messrs. Fred Vinson, Edwin Kessler, Willard Chumney, Homer Knotts, Jan Gordon Elkins, J. D. Harris, James Edgar and Billy Ward; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hendon, Mrs. L. L. Oliver and family and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andrew and daughter. Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Durham and children, Mrs. N. K. Dyer and baby, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. J. A. Bell and son, and Autie Ray Tyner.

Contributed

attacked the entry of the state in the liquor business, use of girls as bartenders, and the automatic repeal of prohibition districts if the proposal was adopted. He said that the law should not be repealed just because it is ignored, and stated there was as much justification for the repeal of the traffic and murder statutes.

The president of Baylor University declared that he would not tolerate use of liquor in his institution and that any one coming on the campus with whiskey in them or on them, could return home immediately.

The speaker said the election was safe if it were left to the mothers and true churchmen, and close with a prediction of victory and an urge to greater efforts for the cause.

The meeting was closed with a benediction by the Rev. Neal.

Two Texas Power And Light Men Are Robbed In Waco

WACO, Aug. 13.—(P)—Two Texas Power and Light Company employees were robbed of $1,000 in currency and an unestimated amount of checks by three armed men in downtown Waco today.

The employees, Tom Barnes and J. M. Edmondson, said they were en route to a bank to deposit the money when the trio stopped them one block from their office. Barnes and Edmondson, walking, were halted by the gunmen, who jumped from a parked automobile, pointed guns, grabbed the deposit sack and ordered the men to walk back to the office without making an outcry.

Three Dead, Five Injured In Truck And Auto Crash

YUMA, Ariz., Aug. 14.—(P)—Three persons were killed and five were injured early today when an Oklahoma automobile sideswiped a truck on the highway five miles east of Wellton, Ariz., and plunged into a second truck trailing the first.

The dead are: James Aubrey Rogers, 8 years old, son of Mrs. J. M. Walton, Oklahoma City.

Bob Walton, 12 years old.

Hobart Meyers, driver of the automobile whose address was given as R. F. D. No. 4, Edmond, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton both were critically injured. Murrell Rogers, 11, was carried to a Yuma hospital where it was said both legs were broken. A seventh occupant of the car whose name was not learned, and a driver of one of the trucks sustained slight injuries.

The Oklahomans were en route to Calexico, Calif., south of Yuma, on a vacation tour.

RELIEF TO GET OUT OF RELIEF WORK IS CRALLE STATEMENT

MEXIA, Aug. 14.—(Sp.)—"It's a relief" says Robert G. Cralle, for more than two years administrator of relief in Limestone county as he prepared to turn over his job to a district office in Teague. The young Groesbeck lawyer who was called into the government service when the work was first put on an organized plan by the state was uncertain whether he would return to law practice, or seek other employment.

The county relief office expires August 15. He supposes he will be out of a job at that time. The five counties of this area have been placed under Tom Lindley of Fairfield, in a district office at Teague. Miss Emma Reynolds, Mexia, will be case worker in charge of Limestone county, with two sub-stations in the county, one in Mexia and the other in Groesbeck.

Mr. Cralle, handling a thankless job, found the frequently changing orders from headquarters in Austin his greatest worry. "About time we got started on something, along came an order from Austin to change it up."

Case Load Declines. The administrator has seen his case load drop from a peak of 2100 families in the fall of 1934 to about 925 cases as he drops the job. He expects the PWA project to change it up.

Two Navarro County Boys Enlist in Army

According to information received from the district recruiting officer, Colonel J. M. Churnin, at Fort Sam Houston, two Navarro county boys have recently enlisted in the United States Army.

Leldon R. Thompson, son of Mrs. Ella Mae Thompson of Corsicana, has been assigned to the detention medical department station hospital at Fort Sam Houston, and Joe T. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edwards of Chaffield has been assigned to the Ninth Infantry at Fort Sam Houston.

acts to take most of these, and relief to be abandoned in Texas by Nov. 1, or shortly after. It is easy to see that relief is to be dropped, he says, and shift to districts is a move in that direction.

Cotton picking and other seasonal labor will provide jobs for most of the relief cases. About one-third of the 925 cases are negroes, and a majority of the cases are rural. About 150 cases are classified as "unemployables."

The Groesbeck office is to handle cases formerly handled by that office, Thornton and Kosse, and the commodity stores at the latter place will be concentrated at Groesbeck. Mr. Cralle says he understands Mrs. Irene Whitcomb and Mrs. Agnes Priddy of the Groesbeck office, and Mrs. A. M. North of Thornton are to be retained as case workers for the district working out of Groesbeck.

Mexia Head County Office. Mrs. Will Wright, Mexia, formerly relief case worker, is holding a similar post with the district now. L. S. Secrest, former relief engineer, is at Brownwood with WPA.

The Mexia office, head office for the county, under the new line-up, will be under Miss Reynolds, county case worker, with her present Mexia staff assisting. In addition, Mrs. Hancock, Coolidge is to be transferred to Mexia, with the commodity stores of Coolidge, checks, payrolls, purchases, etc., will be handled from the district office.

Through with the tough job, Mr. Cralle holds the personal satisfaction of having done his best in though he realizes the necessity of relief work, and would not like to tackle a job like it again, he would do it under the same circumstances, as a patriotic duty.

GARNER RECOMMENDS WORK EMPLOYMENT IN TEXAS CENTENNIAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(P)—Expenditure of the government's $3,000,000 contribution to the Texas Centennial celebration in such a manner as to provide employment for a maximum number of people and to assure as much permanent benefit as possible was recommended today by Vice President Garner.

The vice president and other members of the federal Centennial commission—Secretaries Hull, Wallace and Roper—met with exposition officials and other Texans today to lay plans for selling Texas history to the nation.

Roper suggested various Texas communities which are seeking a share of the federal funds submit their proposals in writing to the commission.

Garner said he was sympathetic to all applications which were submitted to the commission at a conference yesterday and discussed further today but was primarily interested in "seeing this money spent to provide as much employment as possible between now and the opening of the exposition next June."

"At the same time," said Garner, "I would like to see the money spent on exposition projects which will be of lasting and permanent benefit to the people of Texas, the Southwest and the nation."

Amos Carter, Fort Worth publisher, asked the federal commission for $500,000 for the stock show at Fort Worth to be held as a part of the Centennial observance. The state has provided $250,000 of this amount and Carter asked the vice president and cabinet members "to help us get an additional $250,000."

E. S. Autgett of San Antonio, an assistant commissioner of the exposition, reiterated the San Antonio plan for an historic play to be presented by a nationally known producer as San Antonio's participation in the celebration.

"We want something which will advertise San Antonio and be remembered long after the stock show at Fort Worth and the other features are forgotten," said Autgett. Others who explained plans for

Stay Order Will Permit Sale Oil By State Texas

AUSTIN, Aug. 14.—(P)—A stay order from the Waco court of civil appeals today authorized the state to proceed with sale of approximately 450,000 barrels of confiscated oil.

W. J. (Dick) Holt, assistant attorney general, said the order was issued by Associate Justice J. A. Sanford, Sr. It prohibited district Judge H. F. Kirby of Groesbeck from bringing proceedings, pending an appeal, against officials he had enjoined from selling the oil.

The state contended Judge Kirby was without jurisdiction to grant temporary injunctions against the sheriffs of Gregg and Rusk counties. The attorney general, the railroad commission and others. W. H. McDonald, an Eastland county oil man brought the suit.

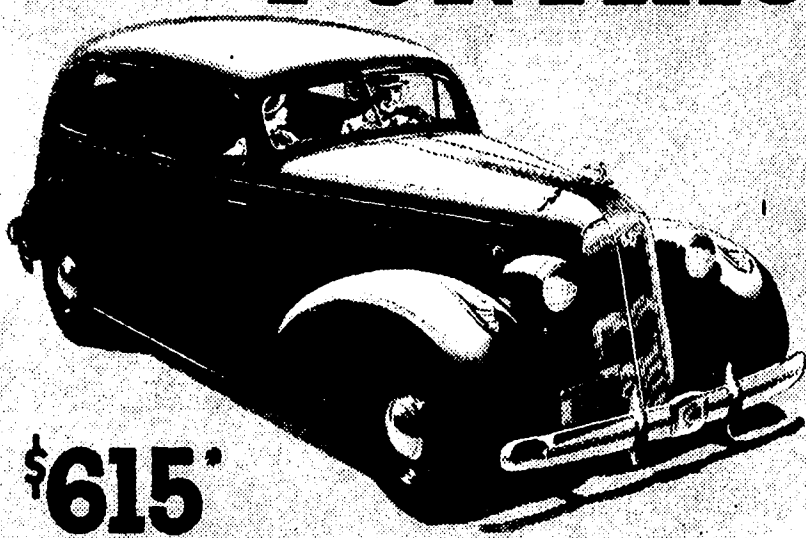

the celebration to the commission included Major Paul Wakefield of Austin, and assistant commissioner and aide to Governor Allred of Texas; H. P. Rice of Dallas, an assistant commissioner, and Walter D. Cline, director of the central exposition committee.

The commission went into executive session after the conference but members said no allotment announcements would be made until they had an opportunity to study written applications which Texas has been requested to submit.

DETROIT BALANCES

Detroit is proud of balancing her budget for the fiscal year that ended June 30. In fact, that city did more than balance. It actually ended the year with a surplus of $3,500,000, collecting more than $83,000,000 and spending less than $80,000,000. For a city traditionally lavish, this record is remarkable.

The spirit and method of the achievements are worth noting. Leading city officials argued that the way to boost tax collections was to cut taxes. It sounded absurd, but it worked. Current improvement in the automobile business has something to do with it, but the soundness of the principle urged seems to have been demonstrated.

The city budget was lowered more than $20,000,000 from the level of 1927 to 1931, on the theory that the lowest levy will bring a higher collection because of the greater confidence it inspires. The response was so great that both current and delinquent tax payments exceeded expectations. Instead of collecting 70 per cent of the current levy, the city got 75 per cent. Delinquent tax collections reached the surprising sum of $13,430,000.

This is explainable largely by the seven-year payment plan for back taxes recently adopted. It shows, as has been shown wherever property owners got a chance to refund their tax arrears on reasonable terms, that they want to keep their property, and want to pay their taxes. They merely need confidence in governmental economy combined with such fair refunding procedure as is usually provided for private business in a pinch.

RAILWAY FARES

The public welcomes, and perhaps the railroads themselves should welcome, the examiner's report to the Interstate Commerce Commission on the subject of passenger fares. The rate now throughout the country is given as 3.6 cents per passenger mile. The report, made after an extensive inquiry, suggests a flat 2 cents for coaches and 3 cents for Pullmans.

Exact appraisal of the proposed rates is a matter for experts. But almost anyone who travels on railroads, or observes railroad travel from the outside, will probably agree in principle, with the report.

"A maximum fare basis, one way and round trip," it says, "for general application of 2 cents per mile in coaches and 3 cents per mile in Pullmans, would be most likely to lessen the transportation burden of the railroads and to harmonize with present-day economic conditions, with consequent fuller assurance to the railroads of realizing a fair return on their investments."

Some lines, trying lower rates now, are finding they pay better because they stimulate patronage.

It won't be so bad—for Congress or the country—if Congress can get through before the dog days. The safest legislative activity for midsummer is fishing.

Some men are so careful and conservative that they'd wear a pith helmet when the moon was shining.

He was handsome to look at but,

At tennis he did rather well.
He could swim under water with ease.

The truth of this marvel to tell,
He had all of the graces which please.

He was great as a young maiden's beau.

But later his wife used to sob
Shed a marvelous husband, but,
oh,
He couldn't hang onto a job.

JAP WAR GAME.

Now it is time for our naval experts to sit up nights and our jingoes to get excited, as Japan's did recently when our fleet was playing around in the Pacific. The Japanese navy is holding its annual grand maneuvers.

The games will continue for two months or more, and the final phase, as the admirals call it, which doubtless involves the heavy strategy and big shooting, will be carried out in September in "the Northwest Pacific between Japan proper and the Kurile Islands."

The "vernacular newspapers" in Japan (popular and largely yellow) are interpreting these war games, says a Tokyo dispatch, as "a test of the empire's defenses against any attack from the northeast Pacific and have stressed their significance in connection with the United States Navy's spring maneuvers in the Alaska-Hawaii-California triangle." That is natural.

Sensible people in both countries will keep calm, observing with satisfaction that the Japanese fleet is staying out of American waters just as the American fleet stayed out of Japanese waters. We shall have such maneuvers while we have navies, which may be a long time, in order to keep our navies efficient and live up to our battle-ships and admirals. Also to get an occasional patriotic thrill that comes in no other way. Navalists or pacifists, we've got to admit it—there's something about a warship!

JOBS FOR MEN

Hungary joins the growing list of countries discriminating against women in business. The government is dismissing from public jobs all married women whose husbands earn more than $60 a month.

This action, as such matters go, is not very drastic. But the government is emphatic about the principle involved. It is alarmed by the decline of matrimony. It wants all employers to adopt a similar policy in order to make more jobs available for men. Marriage thrives better, and population grows faster, the states observe, in the old-fashioned system where the husband earns the income for a family unit.

It may be that this policy touches the chief cause of the decline of the birth rate in most civilized countries. The emergence of women from the home into the business world, earning their own living as individuals, certainly helps to explain the slowing down of population.

The motor business has given business a good boost this year, but it isn't demonstrated yet that we can all get rich by building cars and riding around in them.

This is one of those blessed years when scores of American families gain immortality by having a member "mentioned for the presidency."

PUBLIC NUISANCE NO. 1

—By Clive Weed

THE RURAL CORRESPONDENT

New York City, at one time or another host to all the world, has been entertaining a rural columnist from the Ozarks. A columnist in New York sounds like "coals to Newcastle," but Mrs. Mahnkey is different. For 44 years she has been writing local news for the Forsyth, Mo., Republican, a paper of 785 circulation. During 13 of those years she wrote of the people and the crops around Oasis, a community of 27 inhabitants and a crossroads store (her husband's) on Long Creek, 15 miles from a railroad and eight from a main highway. Mrs. Mahnkey got to New York because she was the winner of The Country Home's contest for the best rural newspaper correspondence. She was picked from a field of 1,600 contestants.

New York made a great to-do over Mrs. Mahnkey. She bore it all, as might have been expected, with dignity, friendliness and modesty. To interviewers who wanted to know all about how she wrote, Mrs. Mahnkey showed her book of clippings and gave her three simple rules.

She writes about people she knows—births, deaths, good times, sorrows, and so on. She always re-reads her copy carefully, and she "scratches out most of the adjectives."

She had her own code of decency, too. "If any exciting crime or anything like that happened, I would not write it up. I'd just let it go. There's not much of that, anyhow. But if any strangers come in or anybody bought land, if anybody moved or got married or died," Mrs. Mahnkey told about it.

No wonder she won the contest, and no wonder the New York newspaper people liked her.

Critics who speak of some of our governmental proceedings as "pure socialism" are exaggerating. There isn't any such thing in the world, any more than there is any pure capitalism. Nations merely vary the proportions of both.

Considering what nature, business, politics, reform, crime, cynicism and optimism have been doing to this country, summer business seems to hold up fairly well.

Nature, whether in a dry or wet mood, plays into hands of our conservationists.

METHODIST UNION WITH PRESBYTERIANS IS LATEST PROGRAM

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A church merger, even larger in scope than a United Methodistism, their primary goal, confronted three groups of Methodists who met today to find a path to unity after 100 years of separation.

A Methodist union with Presbyterianism will be the next step if the conferees realize their hope of cementing the century old three way split in their own denomination.

The Methodist-Presbyterian combine has been considered for several years, said Dean James A. James, of Northwestern University, a member of the Methodist Union Commission for 17 years.

A conference was held on the subject, and it was agreed both denominations should hold conferences in their own ranks by the slave issue before the Civil War, and then seek the larger unity.

The Methodist leaders, six bishops and 39 clergymen and laymen, were confident the four day session they opened today would bring Methodists into one fold—the largest Protestant church unit in the country, with 8,500,000 communicants—probably by 1940.

The three groups, Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal South, and Methodist Protestant, have been at odds since 1828. The conferees, members of commissions representing each of the three factions, will submit their findings to the general conferences of the denominations. The first of these will be the Methodist Episcopal sessions at Columbus, Ohio, next May.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts, Jr., died at the Navarre Clinic Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and the funeral was held at Oakwood cemetery Wednesday afternoon where interment was made.

The rites were directed by the Sutherland - McCammon Funeral Home.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO SEEK LOCATION FOR SERVICE AGENCIES

A committee composed of a representative of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, the city commission and the Navarre county commissioners' court was named at a called meeting of the chamber board of directors Tuesday morning to seek a suitable location for doing various kinds of public service which have asked for office space.

The directors were acquainted with the facts in the case by Ted E. Ferguson and Judge C. E. McWilliams. It was reported that seven agencies had applied to the commissioners' court for quarters. It was brought out in the discussion that one of the units, the Texas Rural Communities, would not be able to be housed with the relief distribution agency.

A number of buildings to house the various groups were suggested, and finally a committee composed of President E. W. Ellis of the chamber, Mayor J. S. Murchison, and Judge McWilliams was named to make a survey of available buildings and prices and determine if suitable quarters could be found. It was suggested that the committee should be able to find a building at a rental low enough that the funds now provided by the city and county would be sufficient to pay the cost of the utilities used as well as the rentals.

The directors were also informed that every effort was being made to provide suitable WPA and PWA projects in the county.

Lowry Martin, chairman of the public utility committee, suggested that a definite program of community development be mapped out for support by all chamber members, but no action was taken although several interesting programs were suggested including establishment of a number of suitable memorials of historical nature in and around Corsicana.

Cobb Sounds First Attack Against the U. S. Constitution

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Amendment of the constitution "to render it an instrument of the living present instead of the dead past" was suggested today by Cully A. Cobb, chief of the Agriculture Adjustment administration's cotton division.

In an address at the annual short course at Louisiana State University, Cobb said the constitution had become the "chief weapon of the opposition" and added it was "not intended to prevent us from doing anything about anything at any time."

He praised the Roosevelt administration in general and its farm policies in particular.

These first rental checks cover contracts where the yield was either lowered or raised. All of the checks were not received but will likely be in the hands of the county agent soon.

Delivery of cotton certificates were made last week in the various communities and the county agent asks all producers who did not call for their certificates to call at his office immediately for delivery of the certificates.

PLANS COMPLETED BY LOCAL OFFICIALS COMING ELECTIONLITTLE INTEREST SHOWN SO FAR IN SEVEN PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

Plans are completed for the state-wide election to be held Saturday, August 24, and Navarre county officials have prepared the ballot boxes and other election supplies and the boxes are being delivered to the presiding judges of the various precincts.

There had been only 15 absentee ballots cast at the office of J. D. Powell, county clerk, Tuesday shortly before noon, according to an announcement. This is not a large number of absenteees and indicates only a small interest in the approaching election by the Navarre county electorate when seven proposed amendments to the constitution of Texas will be passed on by Texas voters.

The polls will be opened at 8 o'clock and will close at 7 o'clock. All election officials have been advised and requested to telephone the results of the election at 8 p.m. as the count has been completed, to the Corsicana Daily Sun (collect) by County Judge C. E. McWilliams and County Clerk Powell. The Daily Sun will compile and tabulate the vote in Navarre county on the night of the election and it is necessary for the returns from each of the 48 boxes to be received as soon as possible so that a county vote cannot be procured unless all boxes are reported.

Returns from the election over the state will be brought to the Sun office on the night of the election over a specially leased wire and the returns will be announced over a loud speaker system.

The commissioners' court recently checked the election judges' lists in their precinct boxes and made all plans for the holding of the election.

The following statement has been prepared by J. W. Wright, presiding judge in Ward 1, Corsicana, relative to the approaching election:

"To the Voters of Precinct 1: In the coming election on the 24th day of this month, there are seven proposed amendments to the state constitution to be voted on, some of which may cause a great bit of interest among voters. As officers of the election we want to urge the voters of this voting precinct which is Ward 1 of Corsicana, Texas, to study these proposed amendments now, before election day arrives, and make up your mind just how you want to vote on each one of them. Then on election day when you go to vote be sure you get your poll tax receipt or exemption certificate. It saves lots of time and work for you to present your qualification papers when you go to vote. Your tax receipt or your exemption certificate was given to you to show to the election officials that you are a qualified voter in the precinct in which you live. It is your duty to co-operate with your election officers to the end that your vote may be cast with as little delay as possible. Remember there beside yourself who want to vote.

"These seven proposed amendments are published and explained by your local newspapers from time to time for your benefit. You should read and study them or get some better informed person to explain to you their meaning, so that you may be able to go to the polls and vote intelligently. And remember if you do not present a 1934 poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate and your name is not found on the poll and exemption list that the county supplies to each precinct, you will not be permitted to vote.

"If you are a qualified voter and you can not make out your ballot, one of the election judges will assist you, but no one else is allowed to do this except an election officer. Any violation of the election laws in or around the polls will be strictly prohibited. The proposed amendments are for or against old age pensions, for or against committing persons of unsound mind without trial by a jury, for or against the repeal of the prohibition law, for or against submitting a constitutional amendment elections during special sessions of the legislature, for or against judges paroling persons sentenced for a crime, for abolishing the fee system of paying officers, and for or against the furnishing free text books in non-tax supported schools.

FORTY-TWO MORE VETERANS ADMITTED LOCAL CCC CAMP

Forty-two more veterans were admitted to the company 3821 Civilian Conservation Corps at the Lake Halbert camp on Monday according to information received Tuesday from Capt. Thomas B. Ford, commanding officer and the strength of the company was brought up to 170.

Forty additional men are expected in the next few days to bring the company up to full strength of 210 in addition to the cadre.

Fifty-two negroes under the command of Lt. V. F. Foster were transferred to Schulenberg last Friday, and Lt. Foster returned to his post of assistant camp commander. Shipping orders for five more negroes enlisted since that time were expected Tuesday clearing the camp of all negroes.

When the company is brought to full force, Captain Ford said that several days would be spent in conditioning the men in the camp, and beautifying the premises.

FUNERAL TUESDAY AFTERNOON FOR BOY HELD AT CORBET

Funeral services for Alva Nolan Hanks, aged nine years, son of Mrs. M. J. Hanks and the late D. Hanks of Corbet, who died in the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic Saturday night, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home in Corbet with interment in the Campbell cemetery.

Surviving are his mother, seven brothers, O. O. Hanks, J. C. Hanks, of Elkins; Maudie Hanks, Corbet; Earl Hanks, South Fort

ADDITIONAL COTTON PAYMENT CHECKS ARE RECEIVED THIS WEEK

More than 500 checks for Navarre county cotton producers have been received in Corsicana this week amounting to approximately $9,000.

The first group of checks for producers who signed contracts in 1935 were received Monday numbering 525 and amounting to $8,311.57. Seven first 1935 rental checks amounting to $179.82 were also received along with one 1934 parity payment amounting to $196.24.

Total cotton payments for 1935 contracts reached a new high of $230,559.27, while parity payments were swelled to $168,583.

Corsicana and Kerens Party Return From Its Tour Southern Points

Mrs. W. R. Deskin and daughter, June, and Ray Humphries of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reed of Kerens, came in Monday from a visit to South Texas points and Old Mexico.

While in Kenedy, they visited their son and brother, Roy Deskin, and family, and an aunt, Mrs. A. T. Bain. From Kenedy they went to Freer, where they were joined by Mrs. Deskin's younger son, Ted, for the trip on to Monterrey, Mexico.

They returned by Corpus Christi, where they enjoyed a morning swim before continuing the journey home.

They traveled 1535 miles with no car trouble at all, and report a very enjoyable trip.

Cole: Roy Hanks, Corbet; Duren Hanks, Corbet, and Marvin Hanks, Corbet; three sisters, Mrs. R. J. Banks, Corsicana; Mrs. Arnold Taylor, Dawson, and Dorothy Hanks, Corbet. The funeral was directed by the Corley Funeral Home.

SENATOR THOMAS DISSATISFIED WITH POLICY ON SILVER

SAYS PLANS SHOULD BE ABANDONED IF PURCHASES ARE NOT INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—Senator Thomas (D-Okl.) said today after a conference with Secretary Morgenthau on the silver policy that "unless the government buys sufficient silver in a way that will make a silver dollar actually worth a dollar the program might as well be abandoned."

"Otherwise the government will be left holding a lot of silver and the only ones who will profit will be foreign speculators," he added.

Thomas intimated he had received no sympathy for his views that an open market for silver should be re-established in this country and that the speculative profits should be dropped.

The world price of silver continued to decline today, although at a slower pace than yesterday when it had fallen more than 25,000,000 ounces of the white metal.

Thomas remained silent about his proposal for a congressional investigation of the administration's handling of the silver purchase act intended to make the white metal one-fourth of the nation's monetary stock.

The Oklahoma senator said, however, he planned to make a statement in the senate. He has been urging aggressive American buying of the metal to boost the world price.

PLANE CRASH

as the door on the right hand side had been torn off.

"I crouched between some rows of cotton to shield myself from the heat. I couldn't help."

Weldon said a pistol was found in the wreckage and empty shells found apparently caused the explosion.

Weldon and McWhorter threw dirt on the plane as the flames subsided. With the help of others who gathered, they dragged the bodies from the wreckage.

The bodies were taken to a Gilmer undertaking establishment. The plane burrowed into the earth and did not move. The motors were pasteurized.

First Major Accident. Delta Air Corporation officials said the crash was the first major accident of any kind that has occurred to ships of this line in nearly 2,000,000 miles of operation.

Several company officials and Charles A. Rowe, superintendent of the United States department of commerce at Dallas, came here to investigate the cause of the crash.

Bulkeley, 22-year-old pilot, had been employed by the airlines only a month. He was graduated from the Wichita Falls Junior college in 1933 and became a student pilot at Wichita Falls. He had worked at Dallas airports a year.

His father, Herbert Bulkeley, Sr., waved his son away when the plane left Love Field airport at Dallas last night on its fatal run.

Dixon, pilot of the plane, was a former naval aviator who was well known on the Pacific coast.

GILMER. Aug. 15.—(P)—Four persons were killed early today when a Delta Airlines biplane crashed at about a 20-degree angle into flames.

The dead: ANDY DIXON of Monroe, La., co-pilot.

HERBERT BUCKLEY, Dallas, co-pilot.

J. W. THOMPSON, Atlanta, passenger.

E. A. IVY, Birmingham, Ala., passenger.

The bodies, burned beyond recognition, were pulled from the ship by Guy Weldon and Herbert McWhorter, mechanics who heard the plane circle over McWhorter's cotton field shortly before the crash.

Weldon said he heard the roar of the motor and looked up to see the plane drop several feet. It circled over the level cotton field as if to land, and then crashed at about a 20-degree angle with a loud explosion.

Weldon and McWhorter raced to the scene, but were unable to approach near the blazing ship.

Rescue Attempt Fails. The farmers attempted to extinguish the fire with sand, but were forced to wait some time until the flames had subsided before they could pull the charred bodies from the wreckage.

Some mail from the passenger-mail plane, which left Dallas last night for Atlanta, was retrieved before being burned, but much of the cargo was lost.

The cause of the accident was not learned immediately. Charles A. Rowe, superintendent of the United States department of commerce in Dallas, and Alva Sole, superintendent of air mails at Fort Worth, went to the scene to investigate.

Gilmer is in East Texas, about 20 miles northeast of Longview, and near the Louisiana border.

From Wichita Falls. WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 15.—(P)—Herbert Bulkeley, Jr., 22, killed early today in a plane crash near Gilmer, was the son of Herbert Bulkeley, for many years an employee of the postoffice department here.

The youth was graduated in 1933 from the Wichita Falls Junior college and became a student pilot at the local flying field. He went to Dallas about a year ago and had been employed by the Delta Airlines for about one month. Survivors include the parents and two sisters.

The elder Bulkeley was at Love Field last night when the plane left on its run for Atlanta.

First Airplane Trip. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 16.—(P)—Paul A. Ivy, Jr., killed in the crash of an airplane near Gilmer, Tex., early today was vice-president in charge of sales of the National Cast Iron Pipe Co., here.

He was returning from a business trip to Mexico and was making his first airplane trip, having heeded the urging of his son,

Who's Closest To Roosevelt?

Inner Circle Shifts But Now It's Said To Be Frankfurter

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON.—With the major "new deal" legislative proposals far enough along in congress for talk of adjournment to be taken seriously, the inner circle of advisers to the White House the working out of the administration's program is interesting.

Perhaps the question asked most frequently among Washington politicians is "What man is closest to President Roosevelt?" The answer has varied many times during the past three years.

Insiders, however, are pretty generally agreed at the present that Mr. Roosevelt's closest adviser on problems of broad policy is the handsome, bespectacled Prof. Felix Frankfurter, Harvard law professor. A frequent visitor to the White House and a prolific correspondent, he is credited with advocating the move of using tax powers to limit bigness in business. The professor moves silently and mysteriously in his contacts with the White House.

Professor's Proteges. The proteges of the Harvard law professor also figure largely in the personalities now glittering in the inner Washington limelight. The two most prominent are Tom Corcoran, youthful RFC attorney, and Ben Cohen, PWA attorney.

Corcoran, a co-author of the public utility bill, enjoys not only an official but a social standing in the President. Gossip has it he is in line for a place on the White House secretariat when a vacancy occurs. He was the center of the fight on the utility holding company bill.

Cohen is credited with being the author of much of the bill to regulate and destroy utility holding companies. The cause of the deadlock in conference on the measure, due to the fact that the "death sentence" section insisted he be permitted to sit in as an adviser, Cohen is disliked heartily by some members of congress, but stands high at the White House.

Wallace Still High. Those formerly considered as having access to the presence of the President on matters of policy—Rex Tugwell, Donald Richberg, Ray Moley, et al, are in the background at least for the moment.

Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, known as the "philosopher" of the "new deal," still stands high in the graces of the President. The claimed success of AAA has brought him the admiration and confidence of the White House.

Another man—Joseph Kennedy, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, has earned the gratitude of the President. Kennedy's success in turning what financiers thought was an unworkable law into one that works has won the applause of business men by helping to engineer a revival of nearly lifeless investment markets.

The youthful, hard-working, former college professor—Charles West, new undersecretary of the interior—is rated as a "comer" in the "new deal" family. He has been the principal liaison between the White House and congress and is among the closest to the "throne room."

FINAL ACTION ON PUBLIC DOMAIN OIL BILL EXPECTED SOON

CONFEREES REACH ACCORD ON ISSUES; MAY COMPLETE PASSAGE THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—Final congressional action was expected today on the O'Mahoney bill setting up regulations for oil and gas prospecting on the public domain.

House and senate conferees reached an agreement on the measure and the house was expected to take action shortly after it convenes. Senate action later in the day was considered not unlikely.

The bill introduced by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) provides for the issuance of leases for all and gas prospecting on the public domain instead of the long-established permit system.

Under existing law leases are issued only upon the discovery of oil or gas. Oil and gas prospectors now operate under a two year permit which must be renewed if they continue operations.

The O'Mahoney bill provides for issuance of five-year leases on unproven areas which may be covered so long as oil or gas is found in paying quantities. Leases on proven oil and gas structures would be for 10 years or as long as oil or gas is found in paying quantities.

The measure sets the royalty at not less than 1-2 per cent. This will be divided among the states, the reclamation fund and the treasury. The reclamation fund will receive 5-12 per cent while O'Mahoney proposes that the treasury carry forward necessary water conservation projects in the west.

School funds of the public land states will receive 37-42 per cent. The remaining 10 per cent will go into the treasury.

braska, and Arthur Capper of Kansas; and the democrat, Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, who was the running mate of "Old Bob" La Follette on the third party ticket in 1924.

"If some one of this type would be nominated by either party," Long continued, "I would prefer to support him before becoming a candidate myself."

But if such a person is not chosen, and before supporting Hoover or Roosevelt—those twin bed mates of disaster—I would become a candidate myself on an independent ticket.

While this was the first direct declaration from Long himself, his desires were made known several days ago by other senators in Washington.

Would Bring Action. The dynamic democrat emphasized his chief purpose in announcing willingness to become president was to stir both parties into action and consider liberal candidates.

"I want to scare them," he said but again declared that if necessary he himself would accept the presidential candidacy.

Texas Ranger Stops Printing Of Race Sheet

HOUSTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—Sergeant Sid Kelso of the Texas Rangers today conducted a one man raid on the Bulletin Record Publishing company here and stopped publication of the Chicago Tribune, a combination of news and "dope" sheet.

The manager of the plant promised to ship his printing press out of Texas and close his shop, Kelso said.

Most Houston bookie shops remained closed today as a result of Kelso's threat to raid them "until they are sick of being raided" if they persisted in staying open.

BRITISH AUTHORITY ON GOLD-ECONOMIC PROBLEMS IS KILLED

SIR BASIL PHILPOTT BLACKETT KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH IN GERMANY

GLESEN, Germany, Aug. 15.—(P)—Sir Basil Philpott Blackett, British authority on gold and economic problems, was fatally injured today in an automobile crash ten miles from here.

Sir Basil died in the University Clinic of what physicians diagnosed as a severe hemorrhage resulting from internal injuries.

Injured with him was a woman school teacher from Marburg, an old friend, who originally was seriously injured.

Sir Basil's automobile was struck by a train on a grade crossing this morning. Death came shortly after 3 p. m.

Was Leading Financier. LONDON, Aug. 15.—(P)—Sir Basil Philpott Blackett, director of the Bank of England, who was killed today in an automobile accident in Germany, was a world authority on economic matters and one of the leading financiers of Great Britain.

He was among the group of economists and financiers recently consulted by David Lloyd George in connection with his new deal plan.

Sir Basil three years ago wrote the book "Planned Money" in which he suggested a new monetary system which he labeled "anti-inflationism."

Some of his most outstanding financial achievements were during the world war when he went to the United States on special economic missions.

Later he assisted the United States in organizing its war savings machinery.

partments Thursday dispatched fingerprints to the Washington bureau for possible identification when local police files and Dallas police records failed to reveal any trace of the person slain.

Steel Bullets Saved Life. The dead man was shot with a 41 lead bullet while Melton's wounds were inflicted by steel-jacketed bullets, one penetrating the body.

"The body of Melton's wounds would have in all probability caused instant death had they not been steel-jackets."

A frost telephone operator, hearing the pistol shots and thinking it was a signal of a fire, turned in the fire alarm siren and roused the volunteer fire department. The slain man and the critically wounded officer were found close together when the firemen arrived in an effort to discover the person slain.

Two men were reported to have jumped in their parked automobile immediately after the shooting and sped toward Italy, Ellis county, where the Dallas-Waco highway is intersected.

Waco officers were in Frost Wednesday afternoon in an effort to determine whether the slain man was connected with a daring daylight robbery of two Texas Power and Light employees Tuesday in Waco.

Believed Robberies Planned. Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse is of the opinion that the two men who sped out of the West Narrows community where the robbery resulted were confederates of the victim and had planned a wholesale robbery of the community as soon as the night watchman had been captured or kidnaped.

In addition to Frost and Corsicana officers, Dallas detectives and other authorities are reported to be trying to solve the identity of the man.

The body is being held at the McCormick Funeral Home pending positive identification and orders from relatives or acquaintances.

Will Fritz, captain of detectives Dallas, was scheduled to have a meeting at Frost Wednesday or Thursday morning in an effort to identify the man, but had not arrived shortly after noon Thursday.

AAA OFFICIALS PLAN 5 PER CENT CUT IN WHEAT ACREAGE

ADMINISTRATION F A R M LEADERS FINALLY AWAKE TO DANGER OF SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—Jamming the brakes on its crop reduction program, the AAA set word to wheat contract signers today that they may plant some 5,200,000 more acres of wheat in 1936 than originally planned.

This order, changing the wheat acreage reduction for next year to 5 per cent instead of 15, was described as necessary to make adequate supply of the grain is adequate.

The reduction will be made from approximately 52,000,000 acres the AAA hopes to place under contract in its adjustment program.

The changed plans follow a crop report estimating that the 1935 harvest will total only 608,000,000 bushels, heat and rust were declared to have cut the estimate to this figure from an earlier forecast of 731,000,000 bushels.

"In the light of this sharp decrease in the crop estimate, an AAA statement said, 'Agriculture adjustment administration considered that a larger volume of production in 1936 would be desirable insurance to both the farmer and consumer against the contingency of another year of bad weather conditions.'

As to benefit payments, which are made to farmers, participating in production control, Secretary Wallace said there would not be a "new deal" in them as a result in the new move.

FORMER RESIDENT

CORSICANA DIED IN WACO; BURIAL FRIDAY

Jesse L. Milburn, of Waco, about 65, formerly a long-time resident of Corsicana, died Thursday afternoon following an operation for appendicitis this morning.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at Clark's Funeral Home in Waco.

He was the husband of one daughter, Mrs. P. J. Sweeney, of Dallas, and six sons, Claude L. Milburn, Corsicana; Jesse L. Milburn, Jr., Dallas; George Milburn, Calverton, Md.; Jerrill Milburn, and Guilford Milburn, of Waco.

For a number of years, Mr. Milburn was well known in Corsicana, where he was engaged in the beverage bottling industry.

TAX BILL

Farmer-Labor: (1)—Shipstead, Grand total for 10.

Against the amendment: Republicans (10)—Barbour, Borah, Capper, Carey, Davis, Johnson, McNary, Norris, Schall, Townsend.

Democrats (52)—Adams, Ashurst, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Bilbo, Bone, Brown, Bulow, Burke, Byrnes, Caryl, Chavez, Connally, Copeland, Dingle, Fletcher, George, Glass, Guffey, Harrison, Hatch, Hayden, King, Lefie, Logan, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Neely, O'Mahoney, Perkins, Robinson, Radcliffe, Reynolds, Robinson, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Smith, Thomas, Tydings, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh.

La Follette then offered another surtax schedule affording increases taxes on net incomes over $8,000 instead of $3,000 in his formal proposal. The new schedule was estimated to raise the additional $96,000,000.

This was rejected 55 to 22.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(P)—After tuning back a republican drive to postpone all tax legislation, democratic leaders today forecast a quick wind-up of debate on its $250,000,000 bill to final passage by tomorrow night.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the finance committee also predicted a quick conference agreement between the senate and house on the tax legislation—and adjournment congress next week.

(The senate bill, much different from the measure passed by the house, provides for increases surtaxes on income over $10,000; boosts in the taxes on estates and on excess profits of corporations; a wider range of graduated levies on corporation income than the house bill; increases in capital gains tax; and personal holding company taxes, and a new levy on intercorporate dividends.)

To Speed Adjustment. Word was passed that after this measure is out of the way adjournment plans will be speeded up, regardless of what administration bills are hanging fire. Some believed this would spur agreements on the utilities and omnibus banking measures which still are deadlocked in committee conference.

Should a general disposition develop to throw overboard remaining controversial legislation and go home, observers felt congress might leave the Guffey blimping food stabilization bill, the food and drug regulation measure and a half dozen others off until next session.

REPUBLICANS ARE ELATED OVER PLANS LOUISIANA SENATOR

KINGFISH TO OPPOSE ROOSEVELT NOMINATION; MAY JOIN G. O. P.'S.

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer.
(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Senator Long (D-La.) has told colleagues in the senate that he has decided definitely to run for the democratic presidential nomination in 1936.

He told them, furthermore, that if President Roosevelt was nominated, he would run as an independent, unless the republicans nominated someone he could support.

Long's plans were reported to the Associated Press today by several senators with whom he talked. The Louisiana senator, however, refused to discuss them, saying he had no comment. He did say, though, that if he ran, it would not be to "beat Roosevelt" but to elect himself.

Republican senators in whom Long confided were elated. They felt his decision was a "big break" for the G. O. P., and might swing the election their way. For a long time many republicans have felt they could win if Long would run to take "radical" votes away from the democrats.

"Break for G. O. P." One western republican senator, whose state has gone Democratic in the past two elections, said there was no doubt it would go republican today, if Long should run. He said the Louisiana would easily take enough votes from the democrats to deliver the state's electoral college votes to republicans, as La Follette did in 1924.

Rivalling the Long reports in capital attention were denials by Senators Glass and Byrd that they would back the democratic ticket next year. Taking notice of published intimations to that effect (not carried by the Associated Press), the Virginians reminded neither "has ever booted a party nomination, local, state or national."

Long told his senatorial colleagues that he would enter many of the state primaries and give President Roosevelt as much of a battle at the convention as possible. He said the president had indicated he would then turn to run independent forces with the republicans.

If the President should be opposed by former President Hoover, or someone of that type, Long said he would run independently.

He predicted he would take such states as Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Mississippi, Georgia, and Florida away from the democrats.

But Long added, his colleagues said, that if the republicans should nominate Borah or some one of that kind, he would jump party lines and throw his support to the liberal republican candidate.

Some Suspect Huey. Though Long's plans excited republicans to high hopes for 1936, they were not counting chickens ahead of time. They realized it was possible for him to change his mind. And some wondered whether his strategy was not entirely designed to influence the republican nomination.

Meanwhile, the developments in the political field engaged the capital's interest. One was a statement by Senator Capper (R-Kans.) that any of a number of republican presidential possibilities could defeat Mr. Roosevelt next year.

Another was word coming from administration circles indicating that Mr. Roosevelt may have something to say on constitutional questions and other matters in his forthcoming trip to the west coast.

As for Senator Long, politicians have long been speculating about what he would do next year. He has been the administrations' fiercest critic in the senate since shortly after the inauguration of President Roosevelt, after working hard for Mr. Roosevelt's nomination at the convention.

Break Over Patronage. Administration leaders have said patronage was back of the break. Long's friends have replied that the Louisiana Senator broke with the President over economy legislation and patronage was denied him because he refused to "go along."

There have been reports that the President was concerned over the damage that Long might do in the 1936 campaign as an independent candidate. Critics of the administration have contended that recent moves of the President—particularly his tax program—were designed to break up Long's strength.

Some democrats feel that Long's candidacy might not prove dangerous. They contend that if Senator La Follette (Pro-Wis.) Senator Norris (R-Nebr.) and other liberals support the President in 1936, Long would not draw many of the liberal votes away from the democratic cause.

While La Follette and Norris have not disclosed their political plans for next year, they have been on the whole supporting the "New Deal" program in congress.

SLIMMERIZING FROCK WITH JABOT IS MATRON'S FALL BUDGET-SAVER
Pattern 2029

by Anne Adams

Ideally suited to be your first fall frock, pattern 2029 is a good dress around which to build a wardrobe. The soft rippling jabot extends from a deep V yoke to adorn, yet conceal that excess poundage above waist. The bodice is gathered to the yoke, while full sleeves cover the weighty part of the arm and only expose a tapering forearm and wrist. The hip-line is pencil slim, but adequate fullness is given below by inverted pleats front and back. For full enjoyment of remaining warm days and an "Indian Summer," make it in triple sheer in a fall shade. Crepe and satin aren't to be forgotten either.

Pattern 2029 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 4-8 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

AMENDMENT FOR PROHIBITION REPEAL ATTRACTING ONLY MILD CAMPAIGN; SOME OF PROVISIONS

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of four articles explaining the seven constitutional amendments submitted to a vote at a special election August 24.

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A constitutional amendment proposing repeal of Texas' 16-year-old prohibition against intoxicating liquor, on which voters would ballot August 24, incorporated three main propositions.

Questions voters would read on the ballot state the three purposes: "...Repealing statewide prohibition, prohibiting the open saloon and providing for local option."

Although it was contested more bitterly upon submission than six other proposals on the August 24 ballot, the repeal amendment has provoked only a mild campaign. Regardless of the outcome August 24, however, Texans would ballot again in November, 1936, to decide if a monopoly over hard liquors should be mandatory.

Should repeal fall August 24, anti-prohibitionists would have another chance in November, 1936, but that election could not reinstate prohibition.

Local option laws similar to those in force when prohibition was repealed would be required in event of repeal. Voters of each county, justice precinct, incorporated city or town would be entitled to prohibit or legalize sale of intoxicating liquor.

In addition, voters would have the further option of legalizing or prohibiting liquor of various types and alcoholic contents. Thus, beer and wines could be legalized but whiskey and other liquors closer division lines drawn.

SENATOR CONNALLY INTRODUCED NEW OIL BILL ON TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) today introduced a three-point substitute for the Thomas oil regulation bill. It provides for congressional ratification of the Dallas interstate compact for oil and gas conservation, gives authority for the president and tariff commission to limit imports and makes permanent the Connally "hot oil" law.

President Roosevelt last week in a special message asked congress to pass legislation granting consent for interstate compacts such as that signed at Dallas last February. It already has been ratified by New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Colorado and Texas.

While he limited his message to that one point, senators from oil-producing states said the president would approve of broader legislation.

The Thomas bill goes much farther than the Connally plan. It grants congressional consent for interstate compacts and authorizes the president to restrict imports on recommendation of the federal petroleum administration, which has been extended until April 1 by the new NRA act.

It also authorizes the petroleum board to estimate the demand and production necessary to meet the demand and inform the states of the figures.

It would give the board authority to restrict "hot oil" law prohibiting interstate shipment of oil produced in excess of state laws, and would authorize voluntary agreements in the industry covering plans for developing new pools and refining operations subject to the approval of the president where they provided for waiving the criminal provisions of the anti-trust laws.

Statement by Connally. In a statement accompanying the substitute, Connally said: "The interstate compact entered into by the oil states on Feb. 16, 1935, should be adopted by congress in order to make it effective. It is hoped that through the compact the oil states may work out plans for orderly production and development."

"Since it is inequitable to permit unrestricted imports of petroleum while domestic producers are prorated or restricted in production, the substitute which I have introduced provides for the regulation and control of imports in relation to the domestic supply."

"Under the bill there is no semblance of federal control of production within any state. The powers of the states are preserved except insofar as they may be affected by the interstate compact entering into by the oil states."

"I am opposed to the provision of the Thomas Bill exempting from the anti-trust laws so-called 'industrial agreements' made by oil companies or others engaged in the production, refining or importation of petroleum. For this reason my substitute strikes out the anti-trust exemption and the allowance for industrial agreements."

At the time of prohibition became effective would be preserved under the repeal amendment. Local options would be necessary to change an area from wet to dry or dry to wet.

Another change would be the local option section would recognize local option on 3.2 beer as determined at elections subsequent to legalization of the old two years ago.

ETHIOPIA SENDING TROOPS TO BORDER READY QUICK DRIVE

ITALIAN-ETHIOPIAN SITUATION MOVES STEADILY TOWARD ACTUAL HOSTILITIES

By The Associated Press.
Ethiopia situation at a glance: Geneva—Ethiopia appeals to League of Nations against arms embargo, saying she fears a massacre by Italian troops if she is unable to defend herself.

London—Neutrals seeking peace, suggest Italy may be offered increased extra-territorial rights in Ethiopia, permitting colonization of Italians there.

Djibouti—Empire of Ethiopia dispatches 60,000 troops to Somali frontier.

Rome—Italy, indifferent to tripartite conference, continues preparations for East African campaign.

London—Mounting of Italy's debt leads British manufacturers to consider a curb on credit.

Paris—Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Pierre Laval meet to review settlement elements preparatory to Tripartite conference.

Djibouti, French Somaliland, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Empire of Ethiopia has dispatched 60,000 troops to positions behind Ethiopia's eastern borders, preparatory for a quick southward drive on Italian Somaliland in the event Italy invades his kingdom.

The troops will be concentrated in the Harar region, it was learned today. Below the Djibouti-Addis Ababa line, it is the native district of the troops composing this force.

Thus placed, they can quickly be moved into Ogaden, the Ethiopian district on the frontier of Italian Somaliland.

Italian war leaders anticipate an Italian advance from Eritrea toward Addis, to the north of Addis Ababa. Such a movement would be countered by the Ethiopian force to the south, it was pointed out.

Exodus of Foreigners. The exodus of foreigners from Addis Ababa has poured many Europeans into this port city. Among them are Italians some of whom immediately volunteered for service with Il Duce's troops in Eritrea.

German and British nationals in Ethiopia have been instructed by their governments to prepare inventories of their properties and be ready to leave the country on short notice.

The orders were attributed to the growing apprehension of these governments that diplomatic negotiations for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict may fail.

This uneasiness was heightened by word from Addis Ababa of the huge increase in the police force, coupled with reports that an extraordinary guard had been stationed at the Italian legation there.

France, too, manifests a skepticism that the Tripartite conference in Paris will accomplish much in the way of peace.

Long range guns have been mounted on the islands off this coast, it was learned today. The French cruiser Dumong-Duville will arrive Aug. 18, to remain indefinitely.

One thousand Senegalese troops will be added to the local garrison, and hangars will be constructed for airplanes en route from France.

GENEVA, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Charging that Italy is preparing to massacre a peaceful people, Ethiopia today protested to the League of Nations that she is unable to pur-

TWO OF SEVEN CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS DEAL WITH SOCIAL SECURITY FOR PEOPLE OF TEXAS

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of four articles explaining the seven constitutional amendments submitted to a vote at a special election August 24.

AUSTIN, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Two of seven proposed constitutional changes on which Texans would ballot 10 days hence were designed to bolster the social security of the state's aged and poor.

One placed at the top of the ballot would authorize the legislature to provide old-age assistance. It would be optional.

The other would permit submission of constitutional amendments at special legislative sessions to meet extraordinary emergencies, a function now allowed only at biennial or regular sessions.

The pension amendment would permit maximum payments of $15 monthly to Texans over 65 years of age who had resided in the state at least five of the past nine years and continuously for one year immediately preceding the application.

Habitual criminals, habitual drunkards and inmates of state supported institutions would not be eligible.

Eligibility Indigency. Unlike most states with old-age pensions, the Texas amendment would not make indigency a prerequisite to eligibility. Statutes establishing a system could, however, invoke that or other restrictions. The amendment would empower the legislature to fix "such limitations and restrictions and regulations as may be deemed expedient" in addition to constitutional inhibitions.

The $15 monthly maximum was prescribed in view of provisions of the federal social security act promising an equal amount to match state funds.

What an old-age pension system would cost Texas could not be estimated in advance of statutory restrictions on eligibility. California, with a population near that of Texas, spent an estimated $3,502,000 last year, supplying 14,804 pensioners with $21.16 average monthly.

The Kansas legislative council recently ascertained the percentage of pensioners to those eligible ranged from 3.02 per cent in New Hampshire to 17.5 per cent in Arizona. The 1930 federal census showed 232,450 persons residing in Texas were over 65 years of age, some of whom would not be eligible.

Primary Purposes. The primary purposes of the special session submission amendment was to provide a means by which the legislature could handle the unemployment problem when proceeds of a $200,000,000 state relief bond issue voted in 1933 were depleted, estimated to be in December.

Without a new constitutional authorization, which could be submitted at a special session if the proposal were adopted, the legislature would be powerless to provide direct aid for destitute unemployed cast off federal relief rolls.

Obviously, however, the proposal would grant an authority that could be exercised for matters other than social security. It would add to the section defining a method for amending the constitution a clause allowing the legislature, "in cases of extraordinary emergency affecting the state as a whole," to propose changes "upon the submission of the proposed amendment by the governor at any special session."

An organization recently was perfected to campaign for adoption of the amendment as a necessary procedure for the state's acceptance of its share in the federal social security funds for aid of widows, dependent children and the blind on a matching basis.

(Tomorrow—Adult criminal probation and temporary commitment of insane without a jury trial.)

PARIS, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Premier Laval of France and Anthony Eden, British minister for League of Nations affairs, played their first cards today in their negotiations to give Premier Mussolini of Italy what he wants by peace instead of a war of attrition.

Two threats hung over the momentous conversations which Eden engaged in at the foreign ministry. First, was a war in Africa with its danger of arousing race hatred throughout the world.

Second, was Eden's rumored intention of announcing that Great Britain would wash her hands of the proposed European peace system if Italy conquers Ethiopia.

Eden and Laval talked for an hour.

BEAUTY CHATS

By EDNA KENT FORBES

All requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (s.a.s.e.) and two cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling. For the illustrated pamphlet, "BEAUTY," ten cents in stamps will fully s.a.s.e. must be enclosed. Address Miss Forbes in care of this paper.

NEXT WINTER'S BEAUTY FASHIONS.

Glowing Beauty. Beauty next winter is going to glow, not of itself but because of the new make-up. Miss Forbes tells you about it today, in the Beauty Chats.

Next winter we are all going to be rather gorgeous. The new fashions are luxurious, colours are brilliant, and make-up is little short of dazzling. This was all hinted at last year but not generally adopted. For instance, if you have grey eyes, you will use over them a green eye shadow, an an-dover that you will rub actually a good deal of iridescent make up. There will be some silver powder, very cleverly put up in paste form, for your convenience. You may perhaps dispense with the color, if your eyes are a clear grey, and use the silver paste by itself. If you are a brunette, you will use a gold powder, rubbed on over brown or green eye shadow, or perhaps, the gold paste by itself.

You can also get these colors in iridescent shades. One of the most lovely is an iridescent violet which would be marvelous with black or very dark blue or dark grey eyes.

There are some new liquid powders, also, which give the skin the proper becoming matt surface, but give it also a transparency which makes it almost luminous. These can be used on the arms and shoulders, and on the faces as well—which reminds me to tell you that next winter the eyelids must shine at all times of the day or night, so that when you haven't got your iridescent eye shadow on them, you put on a little cold cream, without powdering over it, so the skin has always a decided gloss. This, by the way, is an excellent fad, for the more cold cream you lay they are to wrinkle or to show keep on your eyelids, the less likelihood from dryness.

Irrescence extends also to the finger nails. Platinum and pearl and gold are painted on top of the usual colored enamel, especially for evening.

Mrs. K. L.—The ingredients in your formula for the vanishing cream are pretty much what you will find in any of the formulas for such a cream, but the amount of each is left entirely to your own judgment, that it is hardly likely you will find that you really have a cream at all when you have done with it. It will turn out to be something that is usable, and if you have made other creams, you may be able to decide just what amounts of each ingredient might be correct. I shall be glad to send you a formula for a vanishing cream if you forward a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the mailing. Meantime, check up on your own formula and see if it did not originally have stearic acid also in it. Otherwise, your formula is correct for the number of things that go into the making of such a cream.

E. L. D.—Swimming will give your arms and shoulders plenty of exercise. You may also massage the muscles of the upper part of your arms to get some of the fatty portions broken down.

T.—A girl 30 years of age, height five feet one and a half inches, will be of normal weight at 118 to 123 pounds.

K. G.—You will be able to give to your eye lashes what is the equivalent of a massage, if you take a number of them between your thumb and forefinger, giving them a good tug. This acts as an exercise for all the muscles of the lower part of the eyelid, and gets the blood circulating at the roots of the lashes. By taking a number of the lashes together, there is no unpleasant feeling; in fact, it will prove to be refreshing, as it always is when the circulation is renewed.

from my wife which stated that both the war and justice departments have refused clemency.

"I will surrender to the federal authorities in Philadelphia and I plead guilty to the charges. The plea involves a penalty of one year in prison and $10,000 fine providing: First, that the court's marital findings be voided in marriage and taken out of the hands of the military; secondly, that I and my family be permitted to reside permanently in the United States.

"The chief reason why I make this offer is because of the fact that I have a school in September. Their education has been said to be neglected to date because I have always felt that Roosevelt would pardon me and I could send the school in America.

"I have passed the time by so quickly things have reached a state where something must be done."

"Therefore I make the above statement under oath and would greatly appreciate your informing me by return mail whether it is accepted or not. I will leave on the first boat sailing for America."

Grover Cleveland Bergsdorf, a member of a Philadelphia brewing family, failed to report where his draft number was called on August, 1917. He dodged arrest for more than 2 years, but was finally captured by federal agents on March 19, 1920. On March 17, 1920, he was sentenced to five years imprisonment in Castle Williams, Governor's Island, New York.

He received permission to visit his mother in Philadelphia May 21 and escaped while being taken there. He made his way to Germany where he has since lived, a man without a country. An attempt was made to kidnap him in Germany by Americans but one of the would-be abductors was seized and imprisoned.

Bergdoll has made various attempts to obtain clemency. His wife and four small children have arrived in New York last May. Upon her arrival Mrs. Bergdoll said her husband was eager to return and claim a fortune of $600,000 seized by the government when he fled the country.

Refuse Discusses Case.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—After a long delay, Attorney General Bergdoll draft doctors to return to the United States as a court prisoner if military court martial charges against him were dropped. He was given the opportunity by Attorney General Cummings.

"We decline even to discuss the case until Bergdoll surrenders to us," he said.

PIONEER CORSICANA RAILROAD MAN WAS BURIED THURSDAY

E. O. VAUGHAN HAD RESIDED IN CORSICANA FOR MORE THAN FIFTY YEARS

Funeral services for E. O. (Jack) Vaughan, aged 77 years, retired railroad man, who died at his home, 715 West Second avenue, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, were held from the First Baptist church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with burial in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church of which he had been a long-time member, assisted by Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. Vaughan was a native of Virginia, but had resided in Corsicana since 1881 and had been an employee of the railroads here since he came here. He was with the Houston and Texas Central railroad company and then with the Southern Pacific Lines when the H. and T. C. became a part of that system. He became agent at Corsicana in 1886 and continued in that capacity until his retirement in 1928.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Kate Smalley and Mrs. Myra Gordon, all of Corsicana; a son, Everett O. Vaughan (San Francisco, Calif.), and four grandchildren.

Active pallbearers were R. E. Schoep, Henry Call, A. L. Springfield, E. Palmer, Cecil Foster, A. W. Levermann, N. C. Pinkston and J. F. Donoho.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Business Men's class of the First Baptist church and friends of the family.

The funeral was directed by the Sutherland - McCammon Funeral Home.

COMMISSION MUST GIVE NOTICE BEFORE CANCELLING PERMITS

AUSTIN, Aug. 15.—(P)—The attorney general ruled today that the railroad commission was required to give notice before cancelling permits to drill oil wells.

The opinion, by assistant Archie D. Gray, was prepared for Lon A. Smith, member of the commission, who asked for a ruling on the commission's cancellation of permits previously granted to the Petro-Texas Marketing corporation.

Three permits issued for nine wells in East Texas were voided at the request of two of the three parties in the corporation upon dissolution of the ownership combination.

The attorney general held the order rescinding the permits was void for lack of notice.

While finding no specific case on the question, the attorney general held that "justice requires that appellee, who was materially affected by the order granting the permit to drill the well, should have had notice of the reconsideration of the application and hearing under the facts and circumstances."

Texas Utilities to Have Division Office Located in Mexia

MEXIA, Aug. 15.—(Spl.)—Location of the division office of the Texas Utilities company in Mexia, was announced today by W. G. Clark, formerly of Marlin, who will be manager of the sales office. Mr. Clark and R. J. Jackson, merchandise stockman, as well as Miss Melba Patzkie, home economist, will move their offices here from Marlin.

The new office will have charge of sales of appliances, increased uses of power and merchandise lighting in more than a score of towns, including Mexia, Teague, Groesbeck, Wortham, Mart, Marlin, Rosebud, Ott, Coolidge and other places.

Shirley Temple at Palace Friday

There's a song for everybody in Shirley Temple's "Curly Top," the Fox Film star's happiest and most tuneful picture, which comes Friday to the Palace theatre.

In the hit tune score of five numbers, all with music by the versatile Ray Henderson and lyrics by Ted Koehler, Edward Heyman and Irving Caesar, there are three tunes which will be discontinued on and after Sunday, August 18, according to A. L. Springfield, local railway representative.

The discontinuance was ordered after the Texas Railroad Commission had acted favorably on the application of the company, rescinding an earlier order requiring the maintenance of the service.

In the future passenger service will be available on train 101 leaving Corsicana at 2:20 p. m. and arriving in Waco at 4:20 p. m., and on train 102 leaving Waco at 1:20 p. m. and arriving in Corsicana at 3:20 p. m.

PASSENGER SERVICE OVER COTTON BELT SHARPLY CURTAILED

Night passenger service over the Cotton Belt between Corsicana and Waco will be discontinued on and after Sunday, August 18, according to A. L. Springfield, local railway representative.

The discontinuance was ordered after the Texas Railroad Commission had acted favorably on the application of the company, rescinding an earlier order requiring the maintenance of the service.

In the future passenger service will be available on train 101 leaving Corsicana at 2:20 p. m. and arriving in Waco at 4:20 p. m., and on train 102 leaving Waco at 1:20 p. m. and arriving in Corsicana at 3:20 p. m.

Caldwell Man Named Band Director For Schools at Mexia

MEXIA, Aug. 15.—(Spl.)—Clinton C. Hackney of Caldwell has been employed as band director of Mexia schools, succeeding George Royster, who has resigned to accept a similar post in Dallas. Mr. Hackney has accepted the place, and called a meeting of "all interested in the band" to meet at 4 p. m. Thursday at the high school.

Mr. Hackney's election was Tuesday night by the school board. R. N. Hawkins, superintendent, announced Wednesday morning. The superintendent called Mr. Hackney on the telephone, informed him of the election, and received acceptance. His work will start immediately.

RELIEF OFFICIALS DEMANDING CLIENTS HELP HARVEST CROPS

AUSTIN, August 14.—(Spl.)—As the cotton picking season gradually spreads over Texas, relief commission officials are re-emphasizing their demands that every available cotton picker be taken off the relief rolls and told to get a cotton sack.

District administrators have been told to see that no able-bodied relief client be allowed to stay on the relief rolls so long as there is a job for him in the cotton fields.

Despite pest infestation, the cotton crop in Texas apparently will be appreciably large, it is indicated, and relief officials insist that there be a commensurate drop in the relief load in cotton picking areas.

What effect getting off Federal Emergency Relief Administration rolls now to pick cotton will have on a client's chances of being certified to the Works Progress Administration rolls late in the fall when the cotton picking season is over, has been explained thus:

It will not jeopardize his chances at all. An unemployed able-bodied person who was on the FERA rolls in May this year and is registered with the National Re-employment Service is automatically eligible for a job with the WPA. The minute a cotton picker or anyone else who was a relief client in May has worked himself out of a job in private employment, he becomes eligible to work on WPA projects.

In view of this and the sharp reduction in relief funds, relief commission officials are insisting that relief rolls in heavy cotton producing areas should be reduced by as much as 50 per cent if not more during the cotton picking season.

THREE CORSICANA HIGH GRADUATES TO RECEIVE DEGREES

AUSTIN, Aug. 15.—(Spl.)—Three Corsicana high school graduates have filed their tentative applications for degrees at the annual summer commencement of the University of Texas, on August 26, it was announced by Dean H. T. Parlin and Dean B. F. Pittenger.

Approximately 200 students have filed tentative applications for the various bachelor's degrees, offered in the College of Arts and Sciences, and among them are Allen Beattie Griffin and Miss Josephine Laura Ramsey, both graduates of the Corsicana high school who are applying for their Bachelor of Arts degree.

Miss Hannah Brooks, a graduate of and teacher in the Corsicana public schools, is an applicant for her Bachelor of Science degree in education.

New Law Applies To State Highways

AUSTIN, Aug. 15.—(P)—The new statewide law against stock roaming at large on roads applies only to state highways and does not repeal local option stock laws, Charles F. Kennedy, acting first assistant attorney general, said today.

The state law, however, would take precedence over local option laws insofar as state highways are concerned, Kennedy said.

The law prohibits any person from permitting a title to road at large unattended on the right-of-way of any state highway enclosed on both sides by fences. The maximum penalty is $200, each day constituting a separate offense.

The highway patrol and local officers were charged with enforcement.

Thornton Voted Improvement Bonds Ninety-five to Five

MEXIA, Aug. 14.—(Spl.)—Citizens of Thornton are 95 per cent behind their city government in its public improvements.

Tuesday, Mayor E. C. Anderson reported on Monday's $10,000 bond election. The vote was 95 for the bond issue, five against.

The money will pay a portion of the cost of installation of a PWA municipal waterworks and sewer system. The remainder will be made up in revenue obligations and grants from the federal government.

With a new chamber of commerce, municipal improvement campaign, a clean-up drive, new pavement connecting Thornton with state highway, the town is taking on new life.
